

Biodiversity in quarries: dynamic ecosystems for dynamic economies?

Dave Kent

Raw Materials Committee Chairman, Eurogypsum

29 March 2021

Dynamic biodiversity management in quarries

Quarries as refuges

Example 1: Markt Nordheim (Germany)

Example 1: Markt Nordheim (Germany)

Example 1: Markt Nordheim (Germany)

Dynamic biodiversity management in quarries

Example 2: Puchberg am Schneeberg (Austria)

Example 2: Puchberg am Schneeberg (Austria)

The importance of restoring habitats

Example 3: Sorbas (Spain)

Example 3: Sorbas (Spain)

Example 3: Sorbas (Spain)

Disturbance creates rare habitats

Cooperation to develop lively ecosystems & active economies

EUROX GYPSUM

THE VOICE OF THE EUROPEAN GYPSUM INDUSTRY

THANK YOU!

Rue de la Presse 4, 1000 Brussels, Belgium

Tel: +32 2 227 11 30

Fax: +32 2 227 31 41

Email: secretariat@eurogypsum.org

www.eurogypsum.org